

The Entrada Institute and

present
Author, Maximilian Warner
September 10, 2011 at 7:30pm

Join Maximilian Warner, who discusses his just released book from (Utah's newest publisher) Torrey House Press. Warner's book, "Crooked Creek," follows the lives and deaths of the Wood family, who flee Arizona when they are implicated in the plunder and sale of stolen Native American antiquities. They seek support in Heber Valley, Utah, but find that life in the valley is not idyllic. However far they run, the past runs faster.

Cover art by Torrey photographer Guy Tal

Visit Entrada Institute online at Entradainstitute.org. Entrada Institute is a nonprofit organization supporting artists, writers, humanities scholars and earth and social scientists in their development of new works and promoting and appreciation of the natural, historical heritage of the Capitol Reef area.

For more information entradainstitute.org. This series is free and open to the public.